

DIPLOMA IN MODERN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

QUESTIONS FOR THINKING PSYCHOLOGICALLY SOCIAL

QUESTIONS FOR THINKING PSYCHOLOGICALLY SOCIAL

1. Is it possible to be free of prejudice? Have you ever met anyone who was?

2. Are you prejudiced? If so, what are some recent instances in which you behaved in a prejudiced way? If not, how do you know that you're not prejudiced?

3. Does the categorisation of people always result in prejudice? What about categorising people in a positive way -- does that result in prejudice?

4. Are stereotypes ever a good thing? Have you ever tried to get people to stereotype you, either positively or negatively?

5. Does the very categorisation of people: for example, as Female, Gay, African-American, Soldier, Christian, Muslim - necessarily rob them of individuality?

What are the common denominators that link all forms of prejudice?

QUESTIONS FOR THINKING PSYCHOLOGICALLY SOCIAL

6. Which forms of prejudice most socially acceptable, and which are least acceptable? Why are some forms more acceptable than others?

7. What is the most difficult aspect is of being a racial, ethnic, or religious minority member?

8. What is the most difficult aspect of being a majority group member?

Space for self-reflection:

