

DIPLOMA IN MODERN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

The background is a light green color with a complex, abstract geometric pattern. It features a large, faint silhouette of a human head in profile, facing right. Inside the head, there are three interlocking gears of different sizes, rendered in a slightly darker shade of green. The entire design is composed of various triangles and polygons, creating a low-poly or crystalline aesthetic. Some of these shapes have a slight glow or gradient effect.

SELF-REFLECTION EXERCISE II

SELF-REFLECTION EXERCISE II

How are Ideas from the Developmental School relevant in your life?

In what areas of your life has having a fixed mindset been costly to you?

In what aspects of your life has having a growth mindset served you hugely?

Which of your past relationships have been damaged due to your unwillingness to change?

In what ways must you develop your personality so to connect better with others?

SELF-REFLECTION EXERCISE II

In what ways has not listening well to people damaged your relationships?

In which area of your life could you develop one of your intelligences?

In what areas of your life are you accepting second best because of a fixed mindset?

What role does transference play in some of your current day-to-day relationships?

If you continue to grow and develop, what level of impact would you like to make in life?

SELF-REFLECTION EXERCISE II

If were to STOP growing and just remain the same for the rest of our life, what might Erik Erikson suggest you will experience in your latter stages of psychosocial development?

SELF-REFLECTION EXERCISE II

